Experience:

Rob founded Creating Leaders in 2005 following a 23 year career in banking, both investment and commercial, in London and Australia. In his final role in this sector, he led the commercial banking activities of Macquarie Bank Limited in Queensland for 8 years.

Rob's work at Creating Leaders is underpinned by his experience in senior banking leadership roles in Australia and overseas, as well as his ongoing Board Roles for a number of growing Australian businesses in sectors such as Mining Services, Architecture and Marketing and Advertising.

This experience provides him with a strong understanding that as businesses grow, not only is there a need for the traditional inputs of capital and resources, but the skill base and depth of leadership culture needs to be continuously expanded.

In 2016, he expanded his work in this sector by launching Creating Careers, a recruitment business dedicated to the sourcing of quality capable leaders and managers across all industries.

Rob complemented his business experience by completing the Sloan Fellowship in Strategic Leadership, at the prestigious London Business School in 2002. This one year full time program, which is available only to 60 people worldwide each year, focused on the tools required to implement strategy, leadership and change through the management of individuals and their teams.

Prior to this, Rob worked in London and Tokyo with Kleinwort Benson where he was responsible for their Japanese Private Placement teams in both cities.

Rob is married with two growing children with whom they are constantly challenged and enthralled, spending as much time outdoors as possible.
